

This topographic map shows the Gramat region in France. The Dordogne river is prominent, flowing through the landscape. Towns such as Gramat, Champagnac, and la Bertrandie are labeled. A red oval highlights a specific area near the town of Gramat, and a pink line indicates a path or boundary within this area. The map includes various geographical features like hills, valleys, and roads.

